

OUTASPACE FUNERALS Ltd.

A completely new concept in death. Outaspace Funerals Ltd. will take the sting out of death. And with your after-death looked after, you will be able to live a fuller and more satisfactory life. A completely new concept in life. A completely new concept in death. Outaspace Funerals Ltd.

Ever thought what will happen to you when you die? We guess you have, because most people think about it at some time or another. And nobody likes the idea of dying after all. Nobody likes the idea of ~~themselves~~ themselves ending up just a small box of ashes, or rotting in the ground being eaten by worms and maggots.

Well - you need n't be! If you are given an Outaspace Funeral, we guarentee you a 99.9% chance of out living the world! Amazed? Then read how its done.

When you have officially died, your body will be put aboard one of our 'Never-Say-Die' rockets, and sent up, out of the earth's gravity. And then you will be released, to float away at a very slow velocity, in a carefully chosen direction, off into Outaspace. And then your body could go on and on for ever! Only if it entered another planet's gravity, or collided with a satellite, could it ever stop. And because we shall have carefully pre-selected the direction, this would n't happen for billions and billions of years. Perhaps never! Perhaps you will become truly eternal! In Outaspace your body would not decompose. So that there would always be the chance that your body might be found by an advanced civilisation, who could start it functioning again! In any case, its satisfying to know your body won't change.

Unlike religions, Outaspace Funerals Ltd involves no belief whatever, and does not depend on living a 'good' life - all we require is our fee! Unlike those religions specialising in frozen bodies, we offer you an almost certain chance of out-living the world. Those who have their bodies frozen will end with the world!

No wonder more and more people are ceasing to fear death, and signing up for a super, happy, Outaspace Funeral.

Sign up with us today and all your cares will slide away!
